THREE YOUNG LADIES DROWNED.

Misses Gussie Reilly, Dora Nelson and Ethel Woodham, of Escatawpa, Drowned in River at Moss Point.

News reached this city Monday of a most distressing accident, whereby three popular young women of Escatawpa were drowned in the Escatawpa river at Moss Point, near the A. & M. draw bridge. The young ladies drowned were Misses Gussie Reilly, Dora Nelson and Ethel Woodham.

In company with Walter Lynd and Joe Reilly, Jr., the young ladies were bathing on a sand bar in the river, and holding hands backed out into water too deep for them and before the boys could rescue them they sank out of sight. Young Lynd was holding one of the girls by the hand, and attempted to pull them out, but was himself pulled into the deep water and would have drowned but for the presence of mind of Mrs. Ikerd, who waded into the water and helped him out. Reilly tried to get a boat and go to the assistance of the young ladies, but failed. The train crew of the A. & M. also tried to reach the drowning girls, but were too late. The bodies were recovered shortly after the accident.

The young ladies were about 19 years of age and quite popular in their home town, and the distressing accident cast a gloom over this entire section.

The funerals of Misses Nelson and Reilly took place on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. G. Forsyth of Pascagoula officiating; that of Miss Woodham on Wednesday, Rev. W. S. Sibley officiating.

Jackson County Exempt.

On our front page we print the complete list of the numbers drawn in Washington last Friday in the selective draft of men for military service, but the announcement comes from Governor's office in Jackson that county is exempt from draft, already, through voluntary enlistment, furnished its quota of men six over, asked by the war department for the selective draft army. This speaks well for the patriotism of Jackson county, as only five counties, namely, Forrest, Pearl River, Greene, George and Yalobusha have furnished enough volunteers to make up their quota.

The whole State is to furnish 10 troops in the selective draft army.

It has been suggested that the dles of Pascagoula should supply cavalry boys, before they leave camp, with kits, containing the things necessary for a man away from home to have with him, such as needles, thread, pins, buttons, towel shaving material, tooth brushes. Other cities have done the like for their soldier boys, and we think ladies of Pascagoula should see to every member of Troup A is so applied.

East Side Truck Growers.

The truck growers of East S have formed an association, and held their first meeting last Monday night, at which the following officers were elected: John Alex president; W. A. Hooks, vice president; C. Krebs, secretary and Treasurer.

The objects of the association are to cooperate in the buying of supplies and marketing of truck, so that the farmers will get the best results from their efforts.

The next meeting will be held on July 30, at which there will be some interesting social features. Meetings are to be held every month, and it is to be hoped that all truck farmers and gardeners will become members.

to manage the new project.

With a two-burner oil stove, a sink, some odd tables and operation.

Sarah Shular was Miss Besyears she helped in the cafeteria she became a familiar sight to students and faculty in her immaculate white uniforms, beaming a pleasant smile.

The lunch room was a success from the first, but in 1932-

the school the space was needed for a classroom so Miss Bessie set up a kitchenette in an abandoned boiler room with an oil stove.

She managed to serve soup,
bread and milk and laughs about how they sold sandwich-window.

When the school bought additional property at the back of the campus, a small dwelling was converted into a lunch room. During the noon hour there was a stream of hungry students and faculty members back to the lunch room. With additional facilities, the menu was enlarged.

When the new high school building was completed in 1941, a modern, well equipped cafe-

Census In Point Will Be 2-Fold ing of a census in Moss has been postponed until May while school officials work out a plan for "killing two with one stone," M. J. Bullock, principal, said today.

The census, sponsored by Moss Chamber of Commerce, was scheduled to get underway early in the week.

However, Bullock said, the C agreed to hold up the census while school officials worked out a plan for compiling a list of educable youths in Moss Point school district.

The list, said Bullock, is all-important with reference to the state of school funds we will have, therefore, ask the cooperation of all citizens in answering questions of the census enumerators.

Forty-three high school students will make the door-to-door census under supervision of L. McIntosh, chairman of the C committee handling the tabulation.
